

Two pucks are pushed starting from rest on a horizontal air table.

The red puck (#2) has twice the mass of the blue (#1).

If they are both pushed with the same force for the same distance Δs , when they cross the line,

–which has the greater energy?

–which has the greater momentum?

